

NEWSLETTER # 1

Sent: Monday, December 04, 2006 8:35 PM

Subject: News4 Bridge4Money # 1

We welcome you as a founder member of Bridge4Money.com, and as such you are an important part of our final stage of development towards full release in a matter of weeks, This first of a series of brief newsletters will keep you in touch on a regular basis, as we move towards release.

We have been working for over 2 years to get to this stage and all our testing to date has prepared us for this last stage where we can only debug those final elements, with a full population of users operating in a real mode.

The response to our opening of our preview period has been overwhelming and already we have over 200 members registered within the first 7 days. This is important to creating our critical mass of players so that each of you will get a game quickly. Please note the times of opening that are posted on the web site, these initial time periods will allow us to focus play at these times until the numbers online are sufficient to allow 24x7 operation. Already we are seeing continuous play from almost 1200-2400 gmt - well beyond our initial expectations.

So far, most of you have experienced a few hands with our "playmoney" and have seen how exciting this can be. We are working on those background aspects, sounds and images that are associated with the game to fine tune these to be most appropriate to the event. Also, we are fully aware of the difficulty you might perceive in the fact that you cannot talk to your partner or those at the table for security reasons, so we will be giving you more and more visual and audible signals to make you feel comfortable and fully aware at what is going on at all time.

We will also be releasing a new version that will show you your partners "star" rating in terms of their ability. We know this is important to you to allow you to adjust your own play as a function of who you are partnered with - we will give you more information and also publish this on the web site when it is activated. David and his team will be clarifying and expanding the range of bridge information on our web site over the next week or so, to ensure you are all clear on these.

Keep your comments coming back to us, as only with these, can we be sure we are providing the best platform for Bridge4Money.

Nick Justice

MD

www.bridge4money.com